EAGLE

The Spirit That Quickeneth

The organ swells and the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" resound through Keeler Hall as Lindblomites in grey caps and gowns are awarded the symbol of four years of training—the coveted diploma. Somehow the graduate finds he must blink back tears he thought he would never shed. He's going to miss Lindblom—miss her a lot! The warm summer sun and the glistening winter snow will no longer find him, books in hand, on his way to the school he has learned to love so well. The classrooms, the many assemblies, the teas, the pep rallies, and sports events will all be things of the past. Yet, in a sense, once being a part of Lindblom, he will find HER spirit always a part of him. It is a heritage he will carry with him in every phase of life. He will cherish forever the warm and happy memories of L. T. H. S.

ADMINISTRATORS
CHICAGO PUBLIC SCHOOLS

DR. HEROLD C. HUNT

General Superintendent Chicago Schools

Dr. Hunt furthers and promotes the interest of each individual school in the Chicago Public School system and works in co-operation with a capable corps of assistants.

MR. GEORGE CASSELL

First Assistant Superintendent of Schools

Mr. Cassell ranks next to Doctor Hunt in the new school organization and relieves the General Superintendent of some of his former duties and activities.

MR. PHILIP L. McNAMEE

Assistant Superintendent in Charge of Vocational Education

Lindblom, being a technical high school, comes under the jurisdiction of Mr. McNamee, whose work is largely with schools offering courses to train the student for future technical work.

MR. H. H. HAGEN

Superintendent District #24

Prominent seniors, John Mihovilovich, Sally Keeley, and Dorothy Milchrist, consult with Mr. Hagen, recently retired superintendent in charge of Lindblom, whose offices were located here at the building. Students and teachers alike will miss his friendly guidance.

"How Good to Live and Learn"

Our motto should be a challenge to all Lindblomites. How good to live right, in all our social, moral and spiritual relationships so that as responsible citizens we can provide sane leadership in the maintenance of peace. How good to learn that we may achieve goodness as well as greatness and better serve America and the world.

Harry F. Zatz

Principal

We Proudly Present . .

MR. EDGAR PALMER, Assistant Principal

All Lindblomites are impressed with the brilliance, geniality, and efficiency of our assistant principal, Mr. Edgar Palmer, and come to regard him as their personal friend.

MR. FARRELL

Lindblom's Assistant Principal at Hubbard
Though new to his position, Mr. Farrell capably directs the preparation of the Hubbard freshman for his high school career at the main building.

MISS SULLIVAN, Administrative Assistant

The problems of many a student come into the hands of Miss Genevieve Sullivan who competently assists Mr. Palmer in his various office tasks.

MISS WILBUR, Administrative Assistant

Quietly and skillfully, Miss Wilbur goes about the numerous duties which come under her jurisdiction. She plays a very important part in the registration and programming of the Lindblomite's classes.

English Department

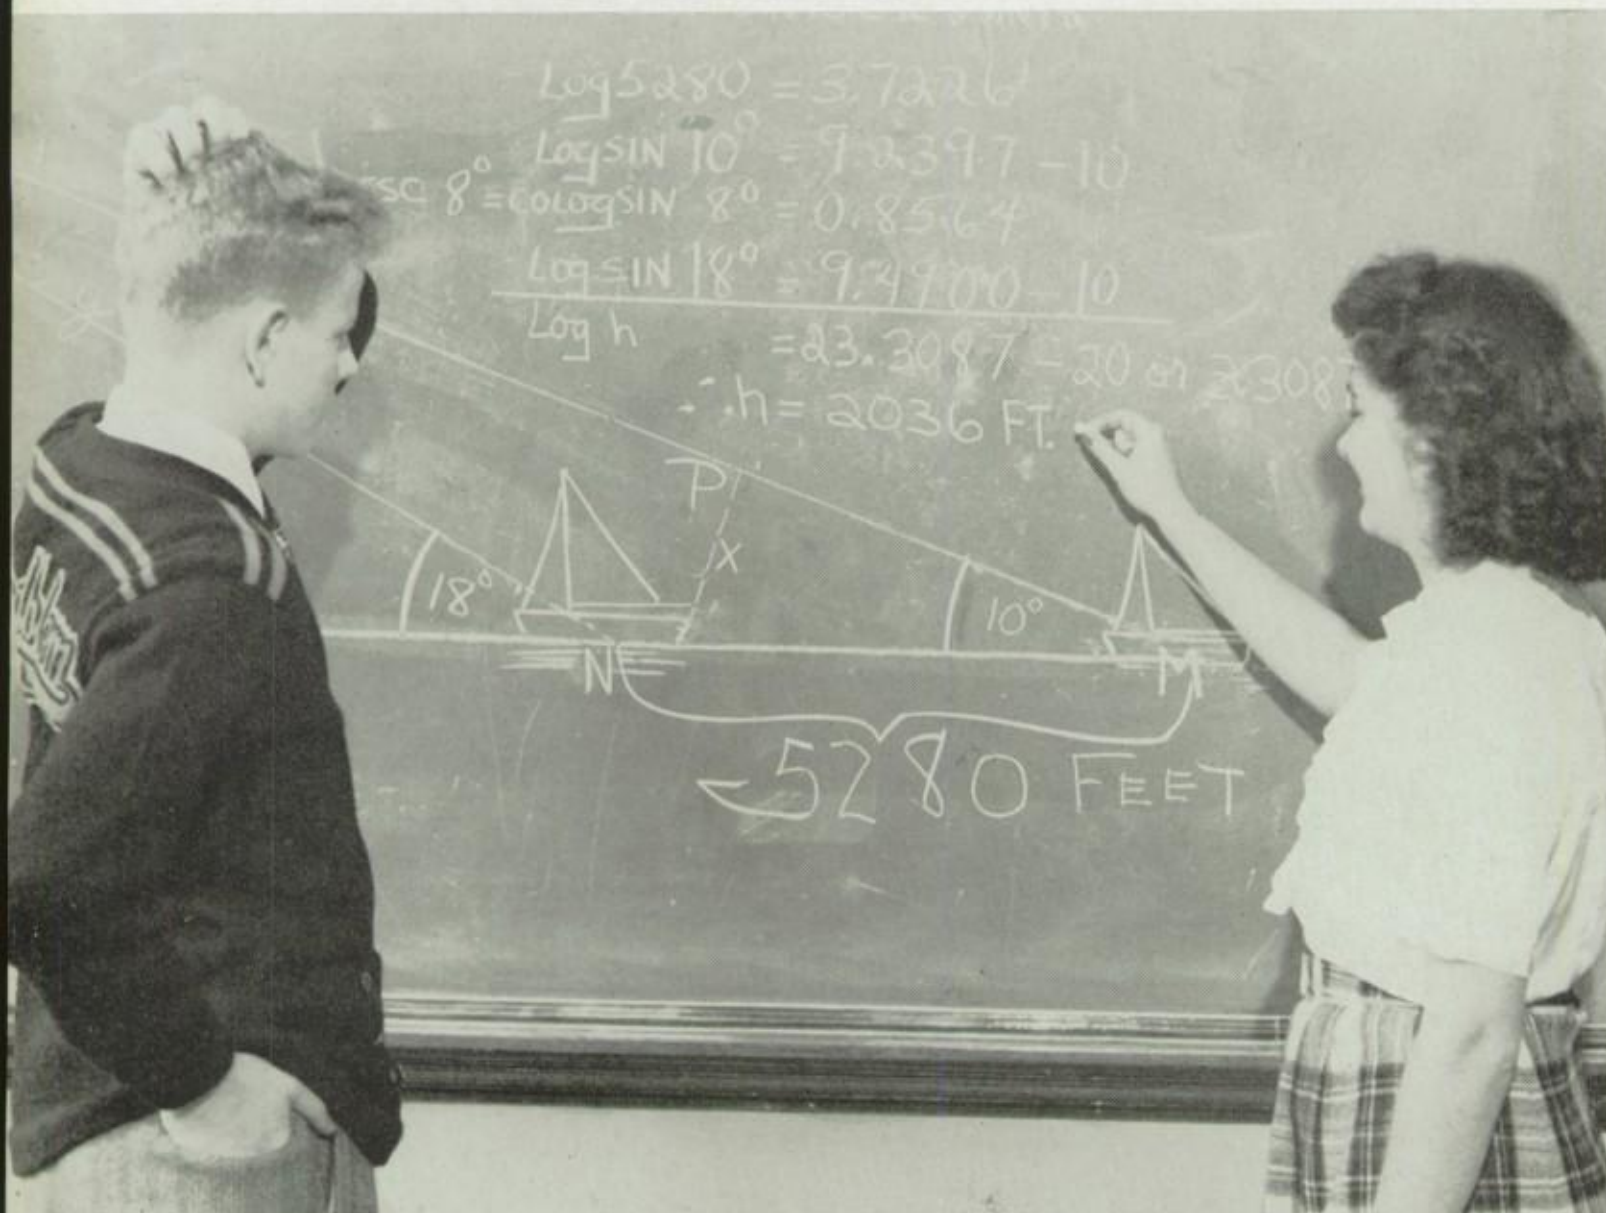

The English Department, under the direction of Miss Garrity, enables the students of Lindblom to achieve a greater understanding of their own language. Besides being taught grammar and correct usage, the best in literature is strongly promoted in the classes, ranging from classics and best sellers to the popular magazines. A four year course is offered of which a student is required to take three years. Journalism or public speaking may be taken in the fifth semester or beyond to prepare for the future.

Language Department

Bringing customs and traditions of romantic lands into the classroom, French, Spanish, and Latin teachers, headed by Miss Moore, educate scholars who desire a practical knowledge of foreign languages. These students learn to read, write, and converse in the tongue they are studying. They realize the value of this training since with modern transportation it is becoming a small world, bringing people together and promoting the greatly needed brotherhood among nations.

Mathematics Department

Offering courses in algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, the mathematics department, directed by Mr. Williams, is instrumental in developing the mind of the student in reasoning and thought, as well as in the principles of mathematics.

Science Department

From the simple problems of general science to the complicated processes involved in chemistry, the science department, with Mr. Mills as chairman, offers the fundamentals necessary for college entrance. Many students will find their knowledge valuable for practical application in their future vocations or avocations.

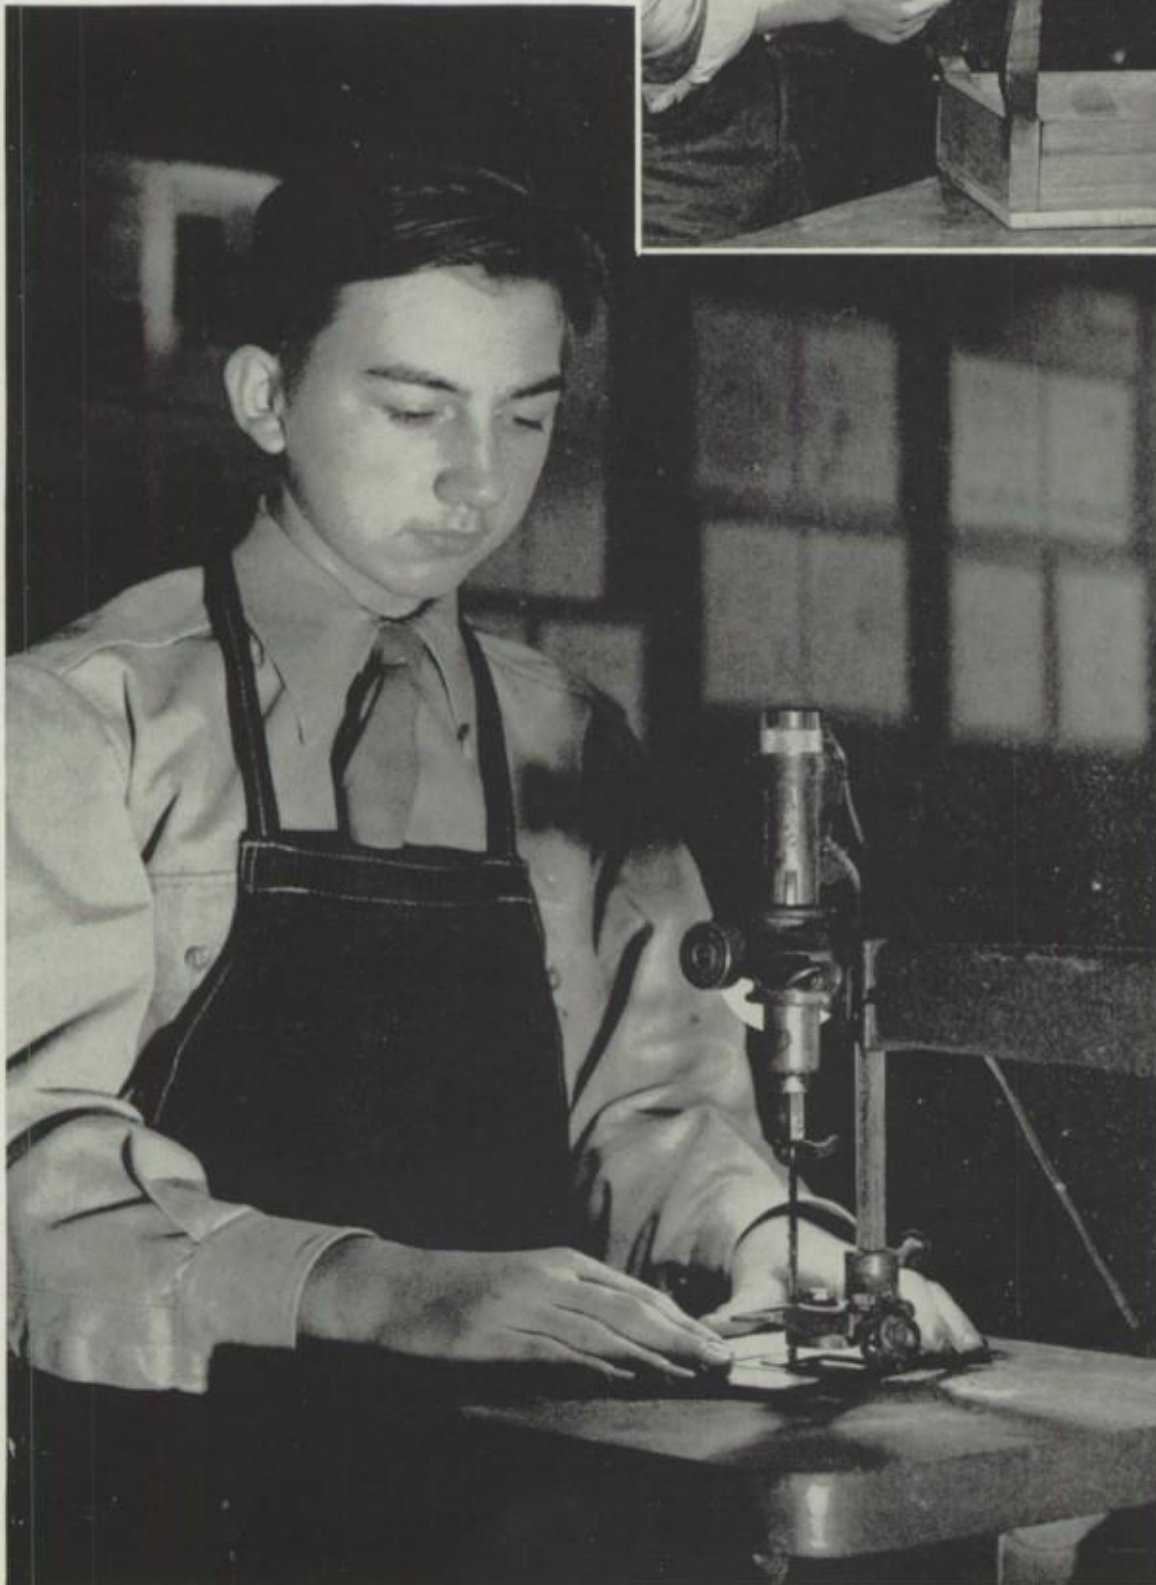

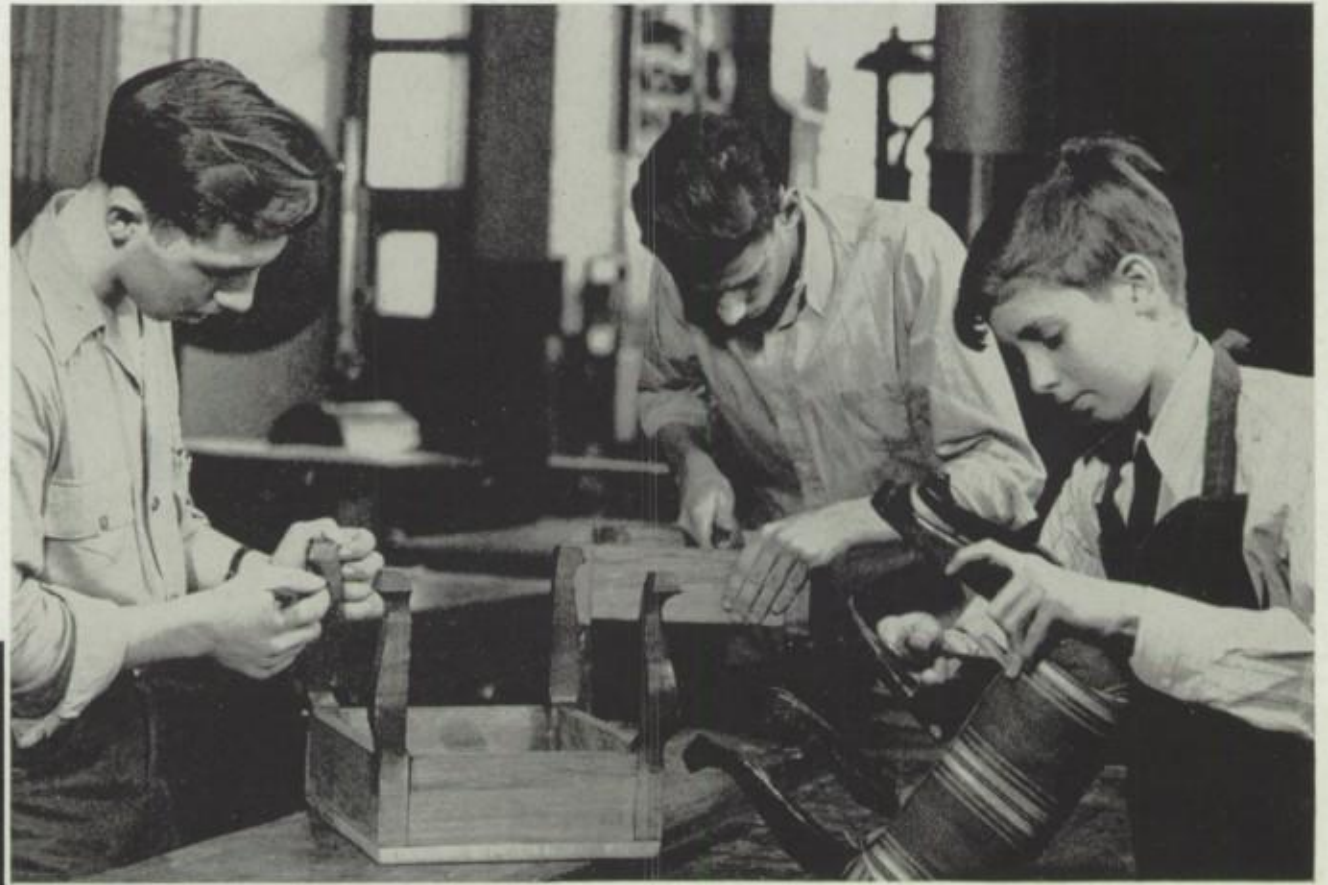

Commercial Department

Students completing the commercial course are well equipped to meet all requirements of general office positions. Calculating, filing, dictaphone work, and mimeographing, all of which are one semester subjects, prepare for the best paid jobs now offered. The stenography and typing classes help the would-be secretary to attain speed, efficiency, and accuracy. Miss Tillinghast is department chairman.

Technical Department

Under the capable direction of Mr. Freeze, the technical department offers one of the most popular courses at Lindblom. Classes are based on two phases of detailed technical training, mechanical drawing and shop. Both are designed to prepare the student's mind for a future vocation and will lay the foundation for our country's architectural and mechanical standing in tomorrow's world.

Home Arts Department

The home arts course offers instructions to those girls who are domestically inclined. Under the auspices of Miss Daly, Chairman, they learn table etiquette and also simple, but helpful rules for table decorations. In our clothing classes, girls are taught all the steps necessary to make a professional looking article. This training is valuable to the teen-age girl in view of the trend of high prices.

Social Science Department

Mr. Blair and his capable corps of teachers offer the students in the social science classes knowledge of world history besides encouraging Lindblomites to learn the basic principles of good citizenship in state and country. U. S. history and civics are required subjects, while a large number of electives are also offered.

Art Department

The study of art is required of all Lindblom students following the general course because the administration feels it will add to the student's general interest in the finer things in life. Our art department, under Mr. Schmidt, has supervised many students in the past, teaching them the fundamentals of drawing and many times bringing out hidden talents.

Music Department

In order to develop the student's interest in better music, everyone taking a general course is required to take one year of this subject. Besides learning its fundamentals, scales, and history, the pupils are taught to identify various instruments by listening to recordings of them. Once a week, as a part of their regular classwork, they enjoy singing semi-classical and popular songs. The department is headed by Mrs. Rosenthal.

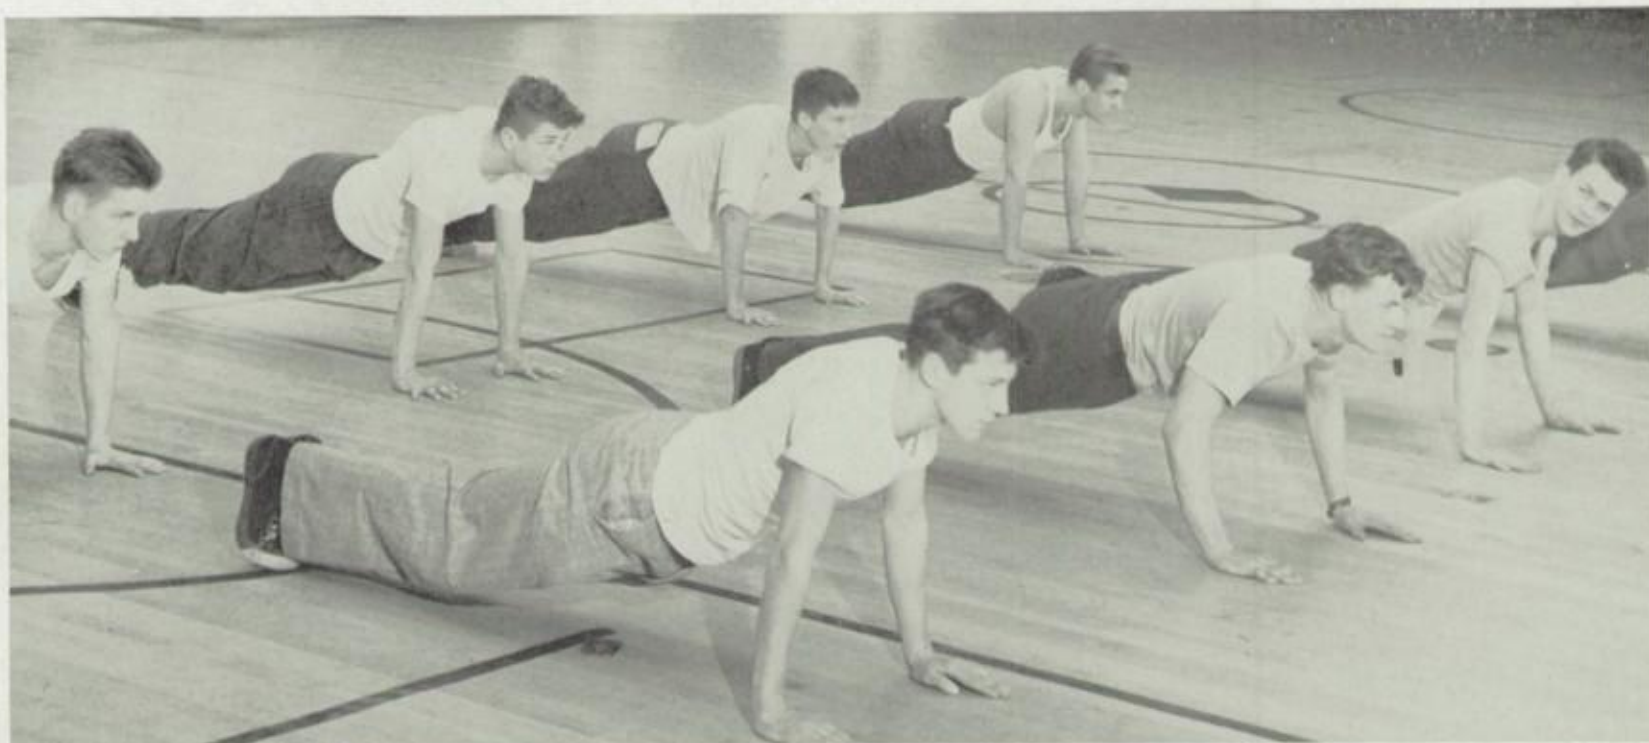

Girls' Gym Department

Seeking to add to Lindblom's academic program, the girls' gym classes offer complete physical education. Each autumn the girls perform on the apparatus while in the spring they take proficiency tests. Recreation in athletics is stressed and volley ball, basketball, and baseball are played. Under Miss Murphy's direction, the department lives up to its motto "Not Amazons but Glamazons."

Boys' Gym Department

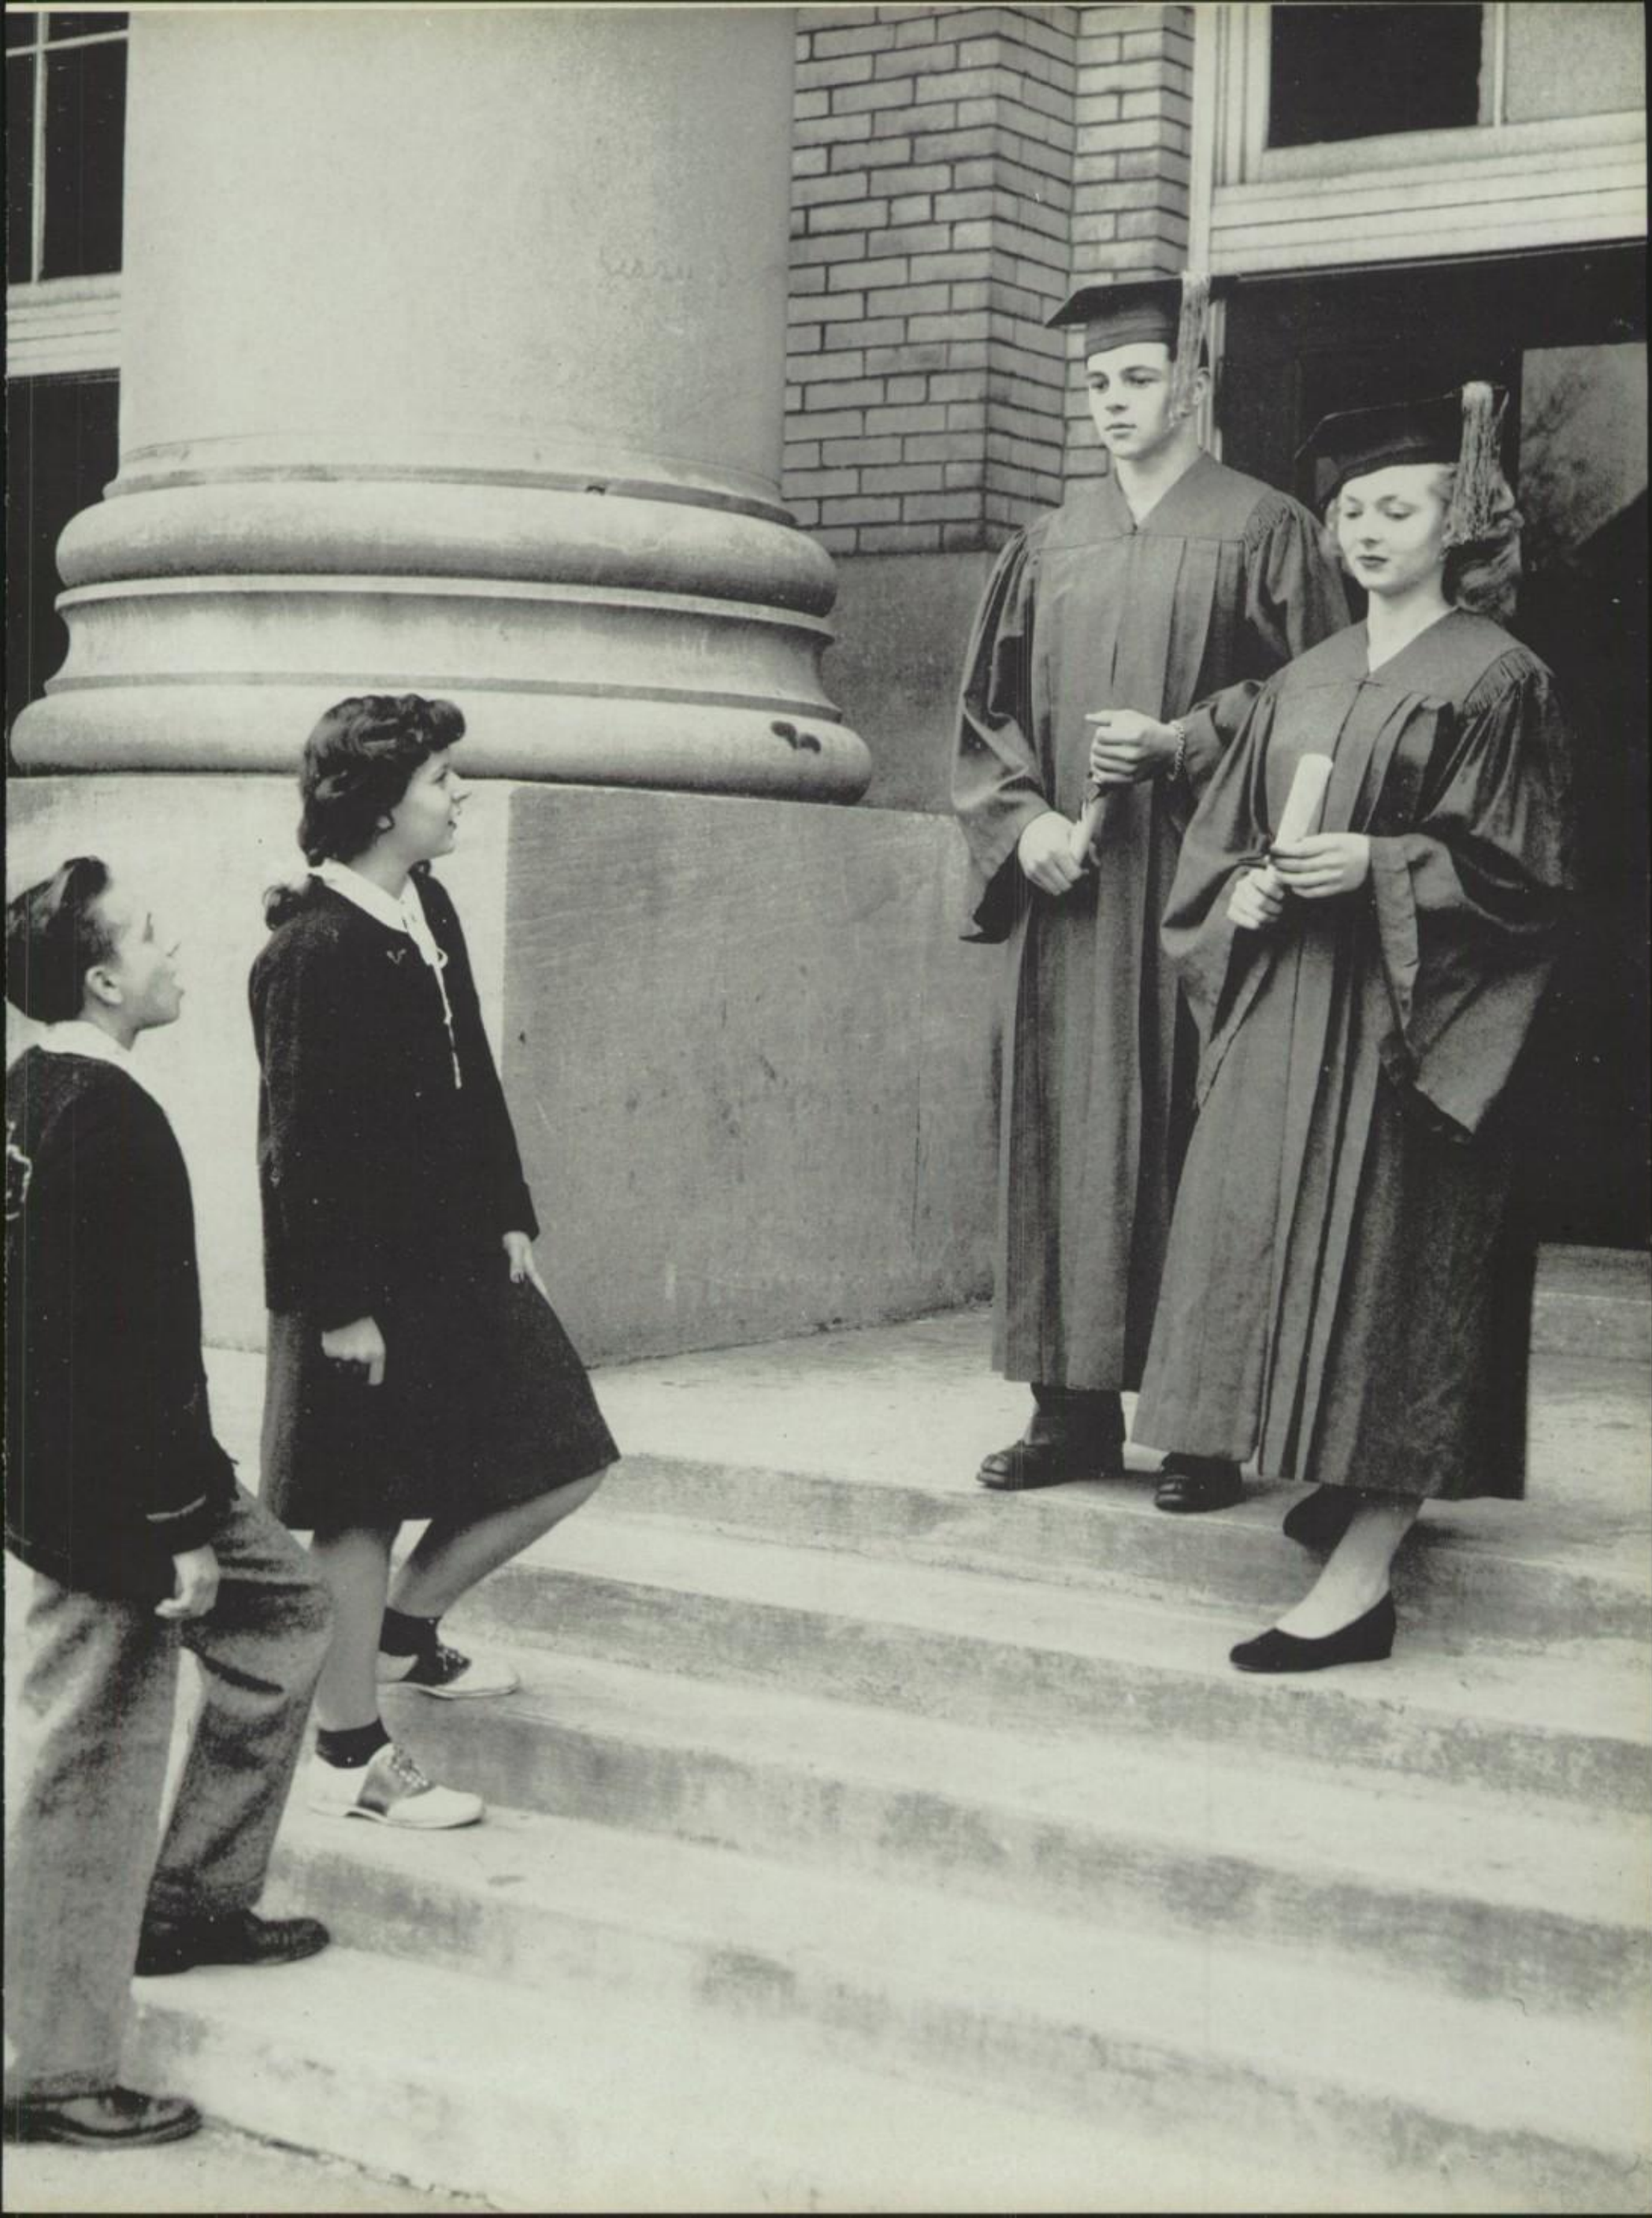

Physical fitness has always been a must in the Lindblom curriculum. The boys' gym department, under Coach Smidl, sees that the boys are in perfect physical condition and are healthy and happy at all times. A gym credit may also be gained in R. O. T. C.

Miss Mary E. Courtenay

Welcome Home

Miss Mary E. Courtenay, former member of our faculty and head of the English department, has returned to Lindblom in another capacity, that of Superintendent of High School District Number Four. Miss Courtenay's contributions to this school have been varied and valuable. She was dean of girls, organizer of the Senior Girls' Council and of our group meetings, founder of the Social Room, coach of many Lindblom plays, and the guiding spirit behind numerous beautiful and moving assemblies. In 1939 Miss Courtenay left Lindblom to become the principal of Gompers, a school for crippled children. Her successful service there was terminated in February 1948, when she was called upon to use her abilities in a broader field, that of high school district superintendent. Now Miss Courtenay's personal and professional talents and inspiration are at the service of each of the high schools in her district, as Lindblom again becomes her official home.

Because of the conscientious work of the Intercabinet Council and the loyal cooperation of her students, Lindblom had a great honor bestowed upon her last year. Several new books now adorn the shelves in our library as our reward in the Non-Glass Breakage campaign.

The P.T.A., which is composed of the parents and teachers of Lindblomites, strives to solve many of the problems which may arise in student and school life. Through frequent programs, parents are acquainted with the various organizations and departments of the school.

Heap Big Chiefs!

Amidst layouts, articles, typewriters, record books, and waving arms, the various staffs of the Eagle try to bring you the best. The best it is, for the editors, business heads, and faculty advisors work in personal co-operation with professional people. Through the pages of the annual, the Lindblomite sees his school year pass in review. All the fine assemblies, honors and awards, studies and fun are once more recalled and he is again living that year at L. T. H. S.

Chronicle Capers

Barricaded in their little bomb shelter under the northeast stairs, with such materials at hand as desks, chairs, and editors securing the door, twenty staffers huddle together to keep warm. Would somebody dare to run upstairs to close the window? No, he might be ambushed by some vengeful Lindblomite whose name was misspelled. The Eagle is out! You, dear readers, have the privilege of seeing the literary geniuses, business brains, and junior Rembrandts pictured on these pages before the long arduous hours of work to complete this masterpiece had taken their toll. They are now tearing their hair in agony as Joe Schmoe scrawls his cute li'l saying all over a beautiful layout.

From the Sublime to the Ridiculous

You can always tell the Weekly editors by the haggard look it is customary for them to wear. This "old look" is shared by five managing editors, thus making the nervous breakdowns comparatively rare! The staff is famous for its prompt and conscientious work. Proof of this can be had any Thursday when the subordinate publication probably appears.

Behind Thursday's Clamor

The depressed reporter looks into the eyes of his raging editor. "What if the assembly isn't a success. It isn't until tomorrow." "That's beside the point," raves the editor, "the copy must be in today." At this point our reporter sighs, "Oh, for the life of an Eaglelite."

Twenty heads are set to work as the Senior Boys' Council concentrates on the publishing of Lindblom's annual pep book. The Council's weekly meetings are opened with their oath of fidelity, followed by a report on the condition of the school building, contacts with civic and social groups, and plans for the future. The boys who comprise this council are selected by their fellow students and teachers. Personality as well as scholarship is taken into consideration. They're tops in their class. The boys are expected to go about their work quietly and conscientiously. Under the guidance of Coach Janousek, replacing Mr. Moore, the council has done its share to preserve Lindblom's spirit and traditions.

Every other Wednesday one can hear various discussions coming from 311. It isn't over ambitious students staying for classwork, but rather the I. C. C. The aim of this organization is to assist the principal in school projects and government. One of the ways in which they have brought honor to the school was by being awarded a certificate for winning first prize in the Clean-Up Campaign. Another project carried out successfully was helping the needy in Cook County Hospital. The council has made mimeographed copies of the minutes of all the meetings for distribution among divisions.

They Brighten the School

Due to the change of the Inter-Cabinet Council constitution it has become one of the largest organizations in Lindblom. In addition to the members from the active clubs, there is now a representative from every division. Being a member of the council does not merely mean work, it also has various enjoyable activities connected with it. Last fall the I. C. C. held two very successful benefit dances, the Harvest-Hop and the Sno-Ball. Another successful enterprise was the winning of a two-hundred-dollar award in the anti-window breakage drive. It was with this money that they bought eighty-nine books for the library.

Known throughout the city for its fine music and outstanding talent is the A Cappella Choir. The Christmas season saw the choir members carrying home their cases and robes almost every evening, for some appearance. Our Christmas assembly was given a professional touch with their production of Handel's "Messiah." Under the leadership of Mr. Taylor, a great musician in his own right, the members say they cannot help but be successful in all their undertakings.

In Search of a Word''

Outstanding soloists and lead voices make up the Madrigal group of the A Cappella Choir. The gold stoles on their robes distinguish them from the other choir members. They are called upon to perform when the full choir is not needed; in such instances as the Induction Assembly and for small clubs.

Along Melody Lane

The music peals out and glorious songs are heard from a dazzling array of girls dressed in white. The Girls' Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Rosenthal, is working hard for an "S" in the city contest. This is the highest honor that can be achieved by any musical organization. Mrs. Rosenthal, who has returned after a year's sabbatical leave, is much loved and appreciated by her girls. Along with the Boys' Chorus, they have given a number of excellent performances, not only for the student body but outsiders as well. There are a total of one hundred and twenty girls in the chorus, who meet every day third period. The student body truly welcomes Mrs. Rosenthal back.

Strike Up the Band

To the Concert Band goes the credit for the stirring music played on the football field, at the pep rallies, and other such events. Under the baton of Captain Jay Sawyer, each year the band has been judged as one of the finest among the high schools of the city. These ratings are the result of much hard work on the part of the band personnel, for many a day it is necessary to practice after school hours in order to attain these honors.

A great many of the members have not had any musical training prior to entering Lindblom. They are placed in intermediate band after receiving the fundamentals in a beginners' class. Finally the student is graduated into concert band.

Again the Spring Festival was an exceptionally gala event and comments were, of course, enthusiastic for our bow-tie baritones. The Boys' Chorus always gives a good performance. Under the able direction of Mrs. Rosenthal, they spend every fifth period in practice to perfect their songs with exacting tone quality. Soloists and quartets add to the sparkle of their many performances. The Chorus elects officers each semester to carry out the routine business of the group.

Presenting Music Makers

To train Lindblomites to appreciate and learn to love classical music, Mr. Christian Lyngby meets every day with erstwhile Toscaninis and devotes his time to them, hoping that some day they might become perfectionists at the instruments they play. Having given seven concerts last year, these students have gained much experience in appearing before audiences. Not only does the entire orchestra entertain, but a few of the more skillful members have given individual performances at different activities throughout the year. At Yuletide, violinists, dressed in festive robes, enhance the beauty of the traditional carols by the Senior Councils. The assistance of other members of the orchestra have contributed to the success of many a Lindblom program.

Intelligence Incorporated

As he reaches the final marking period, the student Lindblomite wonders if he is again eligible for membership in the Honor Society. It is quite an accomplishment to be classed with these students. To attain this honor he must have E or above in major subjects and G or above in minor subjects. At the Honor Society assembly, pins are awarded, upon which is engraved the emblem of this achievement. Any student who wears this pin should be looked upon as being one of the scholars at Lindblom.

On the Honor Society plaque in the front hall, which lists all who have earned membership, will be found a number of names with asterisks before them. These are the fellows and girls who are held in awe by the majority of Lindblomites because they have achieved Scholarship Certificates. To attain this honor, grades must be S in all major subjects and E or above in minors. These students are given their awards by Mr. Yates and Mr. Palmer at a special assembly when the officers chosen by the entire Honor Society are presented to the student body. Speeches given by the president, faculty, and guest stress the fact that these members not only excel in scholarship but are representative of every club and activity in the school.

At the close of the semester students are ready to close their eyes and their books, but those dreadful tests keep you awake and full of wonder. You did want to make the Honor Society! As the test papers are handed back you're afraid to look. You take it back to your desk, and carefully drop your eyes to the paper. To your relief you've made the grade. You're safe until next year.

An integral part of the Eagle is the Advertising Staff with its subordinate group, the Eagle Ad Club. Both of these groups are under the auspices of Mr. Bloomquist, who gives his advice and help when it is needed. The Advertising Staff oversees the subscription and layout of all ads. The members of the Eagle Ad Club are the actual ad finders. These bloodhounds go out into the cold, wide world and plead, threaten, or blackmail business men and manufacturers to advertise in the magnificent publication, the Eagle.

The stage is set and the house lights are dimmed. Curtain going up! Behind every Lindblom production are two groups of boys, both sponsored by Mr. Chatten, who are essential to its success. All props and scenery are erected by the Stage Crew and all the lighting effects are planned and arranged by the Light Brigade. The members of the Movie Projection Club assist in the visual education program now predominant in many classrooms. This group is instructed by Mr. Weckel.

The Spanish clubs of Lindblom help to further the student's interest in Spanish speaking countries. Through them, the members learn more about the customs and culture of the land of sombreros, serapes, and rejas. Very educational and entertaining programs are put on by the members of the club at each meeting. They play Spanish games, give radio skits and plays, have quiz programs, and top off the semester with a gay party. The members of El Círculo Español, led by Miss Moore, are now the proud possessors of club pins. Los Malvados, sponsored by Miss Ryan, have concentrated on learning more about Pan-America.

Approximately forty student assistants come to the library daily to receive training and gain experience in the work of a librarian and to serve their school. They have had two parties in the last year, each being at the end of the semester. The novel entertainment provided was enjoyed by all.

Los Cómicos, or the Comics, meet once every three weeks with Miss Moore in order to travel on their magic carpet to the land of Don Quixote and become better acquainted with Spanish customs. At their many gay fiestas they play games, enact dramatic skits, and sing songs, all in el Español.

The Sub Debs are out to have fun! They hold several parties throughout the semester, highlighting them with special programs such as their style show at which Miss Sub Deb is chosen, and frequent dramatizations of radio skits. These under-classmen have their serious side, too, and each Christmas the girls play Santa by bringing toys to a hospital.

Your Pass, Please

Checking a pass from one as lovely as this is hardly a trial. It is a duty of the hall guards, who must enforce a standard of good conduct. They are also responsible for keeping the corridors free of all debris. For these purposes they each devote one period a day. Mr. Hollister, acting as sponsor, appoints a captain for every hour.

As the shining object seeks its target, a silent prayer is issued—"Please, not another gutter ball!" Ah, yes, the life of a bowler is rugged. Nerves are tense, nails are chewed, as Mr. Moehle tries desperately to calm fevered brows. As a masculine lad bowls only one pin down on his second try, he is heard to murmur—"I'm sorry; honest, fellas, I didn't mean it. Please, put down that bowling pin." Then a petite girl steps up and calmly picks up a railroad. Though many a bruise and broken nail may be incurred, the sport is loved by all who participate.

Order of the Golden Eagle

Row 1—Tziritas, Houser, Olsen, Burns, Walsh, St. Germaine, Palmer—Sponsor

Row 2—Stoginski, Lindgren

Some years ago, Mr. Palmer originated an award which would honor the all-round Lindblomite—the one who had excelled in both scholarship and extra-curricular activities. After earning the ten required points over a period of three or four years, the student is recognized at an achievement assembly, when he is presented a school letter with an eagle, the school symbol, in its corner. Since the Golden Eagle represents the fulfillment of the highest school standards, and an active interest in the advancement of school spirit, it is considered the highest award Lindblom has to offer.

ADVERTISING ART

The best Lindblom has to offer in the way of art, emerges from the Advertising Art classes, directed by Mr. Schmidt. These artistic students, besides developing their own talent show the true spirit of L. T. H. S. by designing posters to announce our various social activities and helping in the school productions by creating attractive settings for our stage. In addition to this, a few outstanding artists are chosen to sketch for the Eagle or Weekly, the school's publications.

Spotlighting the L. T. H. S.

Through the clubs and activities of the Hubbard Branch, the spirit of the traditions of Lindblom is planted and Freshmen are prepared to match the successes of their big brothers at the main building.

Rogue's Gallery

Among the most active and colorful sports at Lindblom is football. The season starts in May with twenty days of spring practice. It is during this time that the two squads are chosen, namely Varsity and Sophomores. The Varsity squad will represent Lindblom throughout the grid season. Any athlete who is unable to meet the Varsity qualifications is trained with the Sophs. Here he perfects his skill to meet the requirements that he was not able to fulfill. This year's Varsity was under the leadership of Captain Lee Sears. Sears proved to be one of the bulwarks of the Eagles' forward wall. The Maroons were able to boast one of the heaviest, most capable lines in the city. Hovespian, Kohaus, and Sears rated as heavyweights; Ceynow, Cunningham, and Waleryszak were outstanding in their respective positions, while Tiberi and Lasko proved to be valuable linemen. The backfield was represented by Swanson, Hill, Samuels, and Cassidy. With his broken field running, Hill was able to carry the ball for six touchdowns. Samuels proved to be the Lujack of Lindblom with his brilliant passing attacks, while Ed Cassidy's power was put to best advantage as fullback. Al Swanson, converted fullback, played a sparkling game at the right half position. Outstanding reserves in the line and backfield were: Hilger, Soltis, Ambrose, Lovelle, and Evans. While the Eagles failed to match their 1946 performance, they did manage to snare the runner-up spot in the section.

The Line-Up

On the Sophomore team or "Sophs," the basic principles of football are taught to earnest athletic minded students. The arts of blocking, running, and tackling are the main points stressed. The first purpose of the Sophs is not to win ball games, but to get the much needed experience to form a successful varsity team. Scrimmage against our varsity gives the fellows the desired, valuable practice in actual combat. This year the Sophs under the coaching of Coach Labant proved to be one of the strongest offensive teams at Lindblom in a long time. The captaincy was awarded to Butch Noble, who guided the operation of the team from the right half position. Outstanding backfield players were Bean, Okon, McAndrew, Leventhal and Grann. The line's powerhouses were Gorney, Roak, Thompson, Slansky, and Smerz. Though their hard work gets them no glory or honor, as on the Varsity, they know that the hours of toilsome, dull practice will pay a handsome reward in the form of a starring position on a future Varsity squad.

Through the Uprights

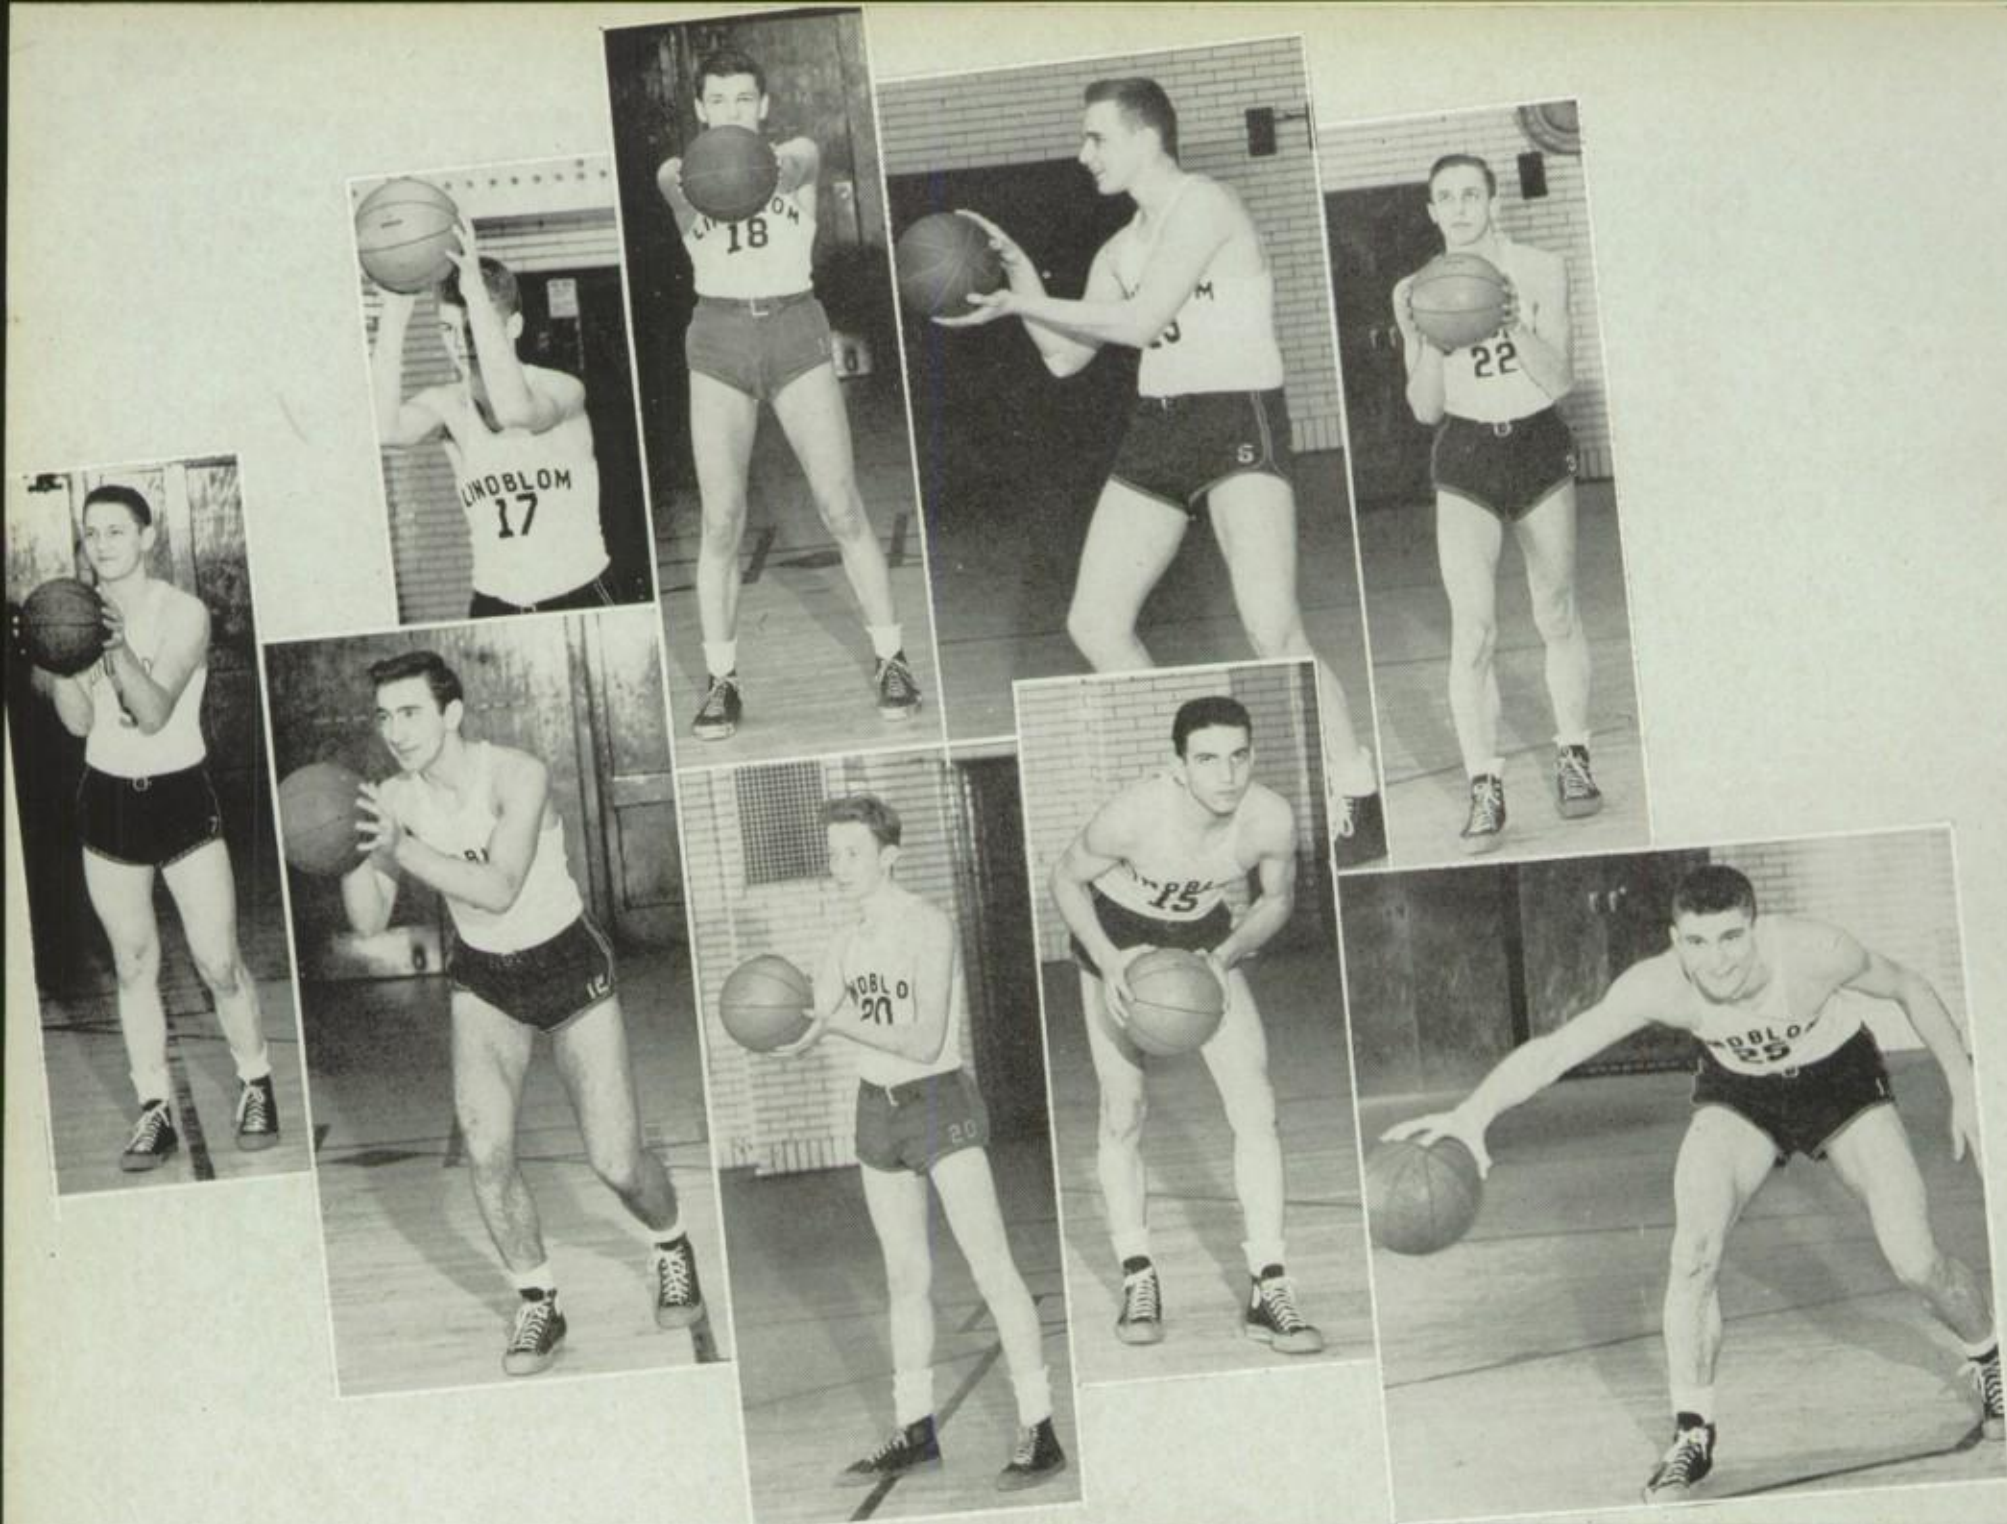

Having to overcome the obstacle of a new coach's technique of playing football, the Eagles proved that it could be done. In the annual pre-season game with our arch-rival, Fenger, our Maroons came out on the low end of a 20-0 score. The first league game found our Eagles again in the losing column, dropping a 27-7 encounter with Tilden. It took Lindblom a long time to break into the victory column, but when the Eagles finally turned the trick, they did it with a vengeance and Dunbar was the 20-0 victim. An over-ambitious Phillips team was overcome by Lindblom's powerful line, yielding 13-9. Trailing in the last quarter, the Maroons ignited a drive from midfield to tally the decisive score, Samuels passing to Swanson and Cunningham, with Cassidy hitting pay dirt.

First and Ten

The Eagles' favorite defensive maneuver—The Goal Line Stand—worked like a charm as the Maroons edged Gage Park, 7-6, Samuels scoring and booting the conversion. Over a half dozen times the Owls drove inside the Eagles' ten yard line, but Lindblom's forward wall tightened and repelled possible scores. Only once the Owls succeeded in obtaining their goal, scoring on an aerial. Kelly proved an easy prey with Swanson and Hill splitting four touchdowns. Fullback Butch Hilger scored the last six points, making the score 32-0. Reaching deep into reserves the Eagles came up with a scoring combination that triumphed over DuSable 26-13. Thus ended the 1947 grid parade of Lindblom.

The Nimble Nine

Our senior eagers showed great promise this year, winning six out of eight practice games and taking Harrison and Gage Park in their first two league games. In the I.I.T. Tournament, during the Christmas recess, our team worked up to the semi-finals, dropping out in the play-offs to Marshall, who took first place. Jim Skala, center and co-captain of the Eagle team, was voted the most valuable player of the tournament. Through the exceptional playing of our team we were able to add another honor to our trophy case.

They Fight for Lindblom

All eyes were focused on the junior eagers this season as they piled victory upon victory throughout the season. With great determination the junior team joined battle with the other contenders for the title of city champions. Hard work and long, tedious practice, seasoned the mighty team into a terrific threat to rival teams.

Lindblom's famed gymnastic team has been bringing top honors to her ever since 1925. They have again proved their superiority by winning the city championship, their third victory since Mr. Smidl's return, but there was no state meet due to the lack of competition for Lindblom. The development of personal skill in these athletes can be demonstrated by the success of Bill Roetzheim, the captain of the 1945 team, who achieved the highest individual score on record. He has been chosen to represent the United States in the Olympics of 1948.

The novice gymnastic squad, with a total of fifty members, meets during the eighth period twice a week. Their purpose is developing material for the regular gymnastic team. During this time the boys are rated in classes from one to four, the first being the best. For this rating there are tryouts each semester in which they must do two exercises on the apparatus. The total number of points that can be earned in this tryout is one hundred. During the months following the meet in April they participate in a number of sports to keep in training.

A champion swimmer churns the water beneath him with smooth, powerful strokes, as he strives to gain the victory for which he has so long been trained. There is much more behind this triumph than the short race which is seen in the pool. Coach Bohor stresses the vitalness of a rigid schedule of training. Practice makes perfect and these sharks have made their goal perfection. The proof of this has come through their success in the city meet, in which they placed fourth, and in subsequent victories over opposing schools.

While roaming through the halls, you bump into a group of students jumping up and down, clapping their hands and screaming loudly. Have no fear, for they are just conditioning their voices and loosening up their limbs in preparation for some big event. These somewhat dangerous looking characters, under Coach Smidl's direction, proved to be the backbone of athletic events, for without their hilarious actions and cheers, every football and basketball game's outcome may have been different.

Mr. Hollister is the sponsor of the club with Bill Markel as President. The main events include the hayrides, wiener roasts, and their hilarious initiation after each athletic season. To gain membership is the goal of every Lindblom boy.

"What's the matter with that girl that just passed us in the hall?" inquired a curious freshie. "She's a new LD member being initiated today," replied the superior senior. One of the newest of the LD members had just passed with a gym shoe on one foot, a dress shoe on the other, no make-up, and the colors of her skirt and blouse clashing brightly. She was now ready for the rest of her initiation, the famed LD hike. At this, her torture would be completed, and she would be qualified to participate in the club's many activities.

Every Wednesday, the sparkling G.A.A. Board members can be seen in their distinctive blue jackets and white skirts. These girls help the teachers carry out all activities of the girls' gym. Some board members have charge of certain activities here in Lindblom, while others keep records of sports participated in outside of the school. Two girls also assist the instructor at the Hubbard Branch.

Loud, opposing cries are heard as the whistle shrills and the Leader shouts, "You're out!" Taught the rules of all sports by Miss Callen, these girls referee the games played in the gym, mark the girls in proficiency, and save the teachers much time in many ways. At the end of each semester they receive fifty points toward their "L."

Despite the frequent consequence of dripping hair, the holders of the prized Dolphin award seek to maintain and improve their skills by spending most of their time in Lindblom's pool and outside pools. They become adroit divers, accomplished life-savers, and champions of endurance. These mermaids do not think of their practice as merely hard work, but find it fun and greatly relaxing. Slightly less advanced than the Dolphins, the life-savers dedicate their time and energy to learning the various carries for saving a drowning person. They must have at least fifteen hours of actual swimming to their credit to get their junior and senior life-saving badges.

General Good Sports

The present top man of the R.O.T.C. is "Little Joe" or Sergeant Natale. He spends much of his time spouting and shouting concise commands. The Sergeant's aids, the staff, help keep a smooth running outfit. Their knowledge of Military Science and tactics is extensive. The four R.O. Staff members are officers and non-coms who direct the work of the companies, the Picked Platoon and the Drum and Bugle Corps. From dawn to setting sun the boys train and it is through these many hours of hard work that the R.O.T.C. has brought fame and glory to Lindblom.

White sweaters will be worn by the R. O. "L" club! The award signifies a city wide championship. The picked platoon took first place in an all city competition. Under the capable command of Cadet Lieutenant Alden Ketchum, the Eagles brought glorious honors to Lindblom. The R.O.T.C. boys are divided into two groups, Co. A and Co. B, each with its identifying banner. The training they receive is regular class work and they are given a credit in physical education. Exacting student officers are in command and pity the poor cadet whose equipment shows a speck of dirt or tarnish.

Boots, Boots, Boots

Heads held high, shoulders erect, heels together, and buttons aglow; these are some of the characteristics of lads of Lindblom's R.O.T.C. This military organization trains the student's mind as well as his body. Precision is their aim, perfection their goal.

"Remember, we're out for first place in the city competition, and we're going to get it!"

"Gee, the sarge said he wanted to be able to see the reflection of his face in my buttons reflected again in this bugle."

"Do you think you could teach me that so the girls would swoon over me like they do over Harry James?"

But what good is Harry James without at least two Gene Krupas to back him up, eh, boys?

Pep's Diary

February 2—We came, we saw, and finally conquered! As 4A's we start out on that "last mile" which will mean the end of our school days at Lindblom.

February 3—Best we put on our hiking boots! Looks as though it's gonna be a rough and rugged "last mile" . . . Why did we get books? Seniors don't do homework.

February 4—Seniors do do homework!

February 5—Our first Senior Hall Meeting and we begin to grasp a faint idea of the do-re-mi we will no longer grasp because of class dues, prom bids, and other expenses. A fiendish gleam is noticed in the eyes of a certain few who have ideas for making ends meet.

February 6—Twenty-three indignant freshies demand refunds on tickets sold them by Margie Barr for the Freshman Induction Assembly.

February 11—Dave Waleryszak is very embarrassed to find that it took him two and two-thirds seconds to cross the swimming pool. Don't you worry, Davey, baby, wait till we put water in it!

February 12—Milton Polich comes to school today, wonders where classmates are. Anyway, we remembered you, Abe.

February 13—Tragedy in Lindblom! Violet Van Ry is struck on the noggin by a campaign poster; Alden Ketchum drowns at the drinking fountain; Billy McIntyre forgets to collect the penny refund on his milk-bottle in the lunchroom. Today's Friday the 13th, but we're not superstitious! Oh, yeah?

February 16—Flo Hawks is still walking around with her head in the clouds recalling the lovely valentine from Johnny Allen. . . . We got a valentine, too! (From Senior girl councilor Ronnie Radivoy, for a nickel.)

February 18—Robert Doyle stuck himself . . . the excitement of receiving his first Honor Society pin was just too much for him.

February 19—The following lengthy description of Jim Skala was overheard at the Phillips basketball game: "WOW!"

February 20—Gabby Gordon, Janet Cosbey, Dolores Prosen and Sylvia Gierut hold their stand with determination and "Maidenswoon" Loftus, new supply clerk, is forced to drink six cups of tea, eat eighteen slices of cake and three doughnuts at the Mail Service Induction Tea.

February 22—In honor of George Washington each and every Lindblomite resolves to speak only the truth. . . . Tom Mosiej, Frank Gaca, Howie Rehn, Flip Gleason and Mark Madden were speechless.

February 26—The first issue of the Weekly comes out and once again students have something to hide behind during division, cover textbooks with, wrap their lunches in—and maybe even read. Dot Milchrist and Letty Mae Walsh howl with glee as they crack whips over heads of trembling Freshmen who do not subscribe.

February 29 — Shy Russell Hancock comes tearing breathlessly down the back alley. Fifty girls come tearing after Russ. Well, whadda ya know! It's Leap Year.

March 2—Charles Templeton insists on a subterranean tunnel under Ye Olde Weekly office. But Chuck, think of the muscles developed in hurdling those rafters.

March 6—Who's that we saw sneaking through the alleys at 10:02 P.M.? It's only Elaine Burns, Bernie Arnold, Marilyn Delfs and Mary Hazzard, who haven't as yet perfected their Irish brogues and have only their Pepsodent smiles to offer the cops for being out after the curfew.

March 11—Jeanne Cervenka smiles—five Freshman boys are carried out on stretchers.

March 12—Cadet Major Al Tarabori frowns—Sixty-five R.O. Freshies are carried out on stretchers. It all depends upon your tactics.

March 17—Top o' the morning to you, Kathleen Noreen Theresa Callaghan, and the rest of the day to you, Pat Murphy.

March 24—"I'm going to room th-w-ree oh niyen" quips Peter Dunn—before the effects of the Telephone demonstration wear off.

April 1—TOOF TIRIV

April 5—Right in the middle of the Civil War, Lee Sears ups and walks out of U.S. History. Lee later explained that "someone was foolin' around with my car." (We use the term "car" loosely.)

April 13—Marking day is here again.
Teachers' pens make a scratching sound.
Write S for Senior, F for Freshman—
Or is it the other way around!

April 15—It is reported that Howie Ryan was seen skipping down the hall delightedly playing with his yo-yo.

Pep's Diary

April 20—Shirley Okon blows bubbles, but big. Near-sighted Pan Evans got so confused in Gym that she thought it was a volleyball, hit it over the net, and gummed up the works.

April 23—Renie Zelensky, Terry Roubik, Connie Fischer and Shirley Field take home their gym suits.

April 26—1 week, 7 days, 168 hours, 8,880 minutes, 532,800 seconds of peace and contentment—Clean-Up-Week!

May 3—The prom is getting close! Six noses are pressed against the window of Blums Vogue. June Carlberg, Joan Schreiner, Elsie Bertso, Shirley Orr, Ginny Lindgren and Nat Scalia decide that the $5,000 formal on display just doesn't suit them anyhow!

May 5—Seven senior girls, ten juniors, fourteen sophs and sixty-five freshies are suffering from wounds incurred while attempting to snatch one of Bob McCarthy's graduation photos.

May 12—Gladys Cahill gives daily report to mama. "In gym today, I learned how to walk, in swimming I learned how to breathe, in speech I learned to talk. It was a snap! I'm absorbent; those things come easy."

May 17—In anticipation of the most stupendous, super-colossal, and sensational event of the year, Betty Bresnahan and Beverly James invade P-K's to buy pens which write under water in case it rains on the Eagle's debut.

May 19—Quoth Betty Solomon to Joyce Foster: "Only 165 more days until Hallowe'en. Then you get some use out of that face of yours."

May 21—Music Festival. Not that we're bragging or anything, but what other school has such talent? (The performers will pay us later, natch!)

May 22—Lasko, Berg, Markel, and Mickow,
You're in Pep's Diary. Happy now?

June 1—At the Girls' Achievement Assembly, Shirley Rizzo turns double flip flops as gymnast Bob Feldmeir sulks in the second balcony.

June 2—Joe Soltis: "Gee, look at the nice new exit signs." Billy Cross: "Joe, those 'nice new exit signs' were installed last January." Joe Soltis: "Oh."

June 3—Johnny Mihovilovich weeps as he shines up the Achievement L Cup for the last time, before presenting it at the Boys' Athletic Assembly.

June 9 — Our senior class is well represented at the Achievement Assembly and many of our number walk away with top honors. Sally Keeley and Mary Tziritas trip over the lovely arrangement of lights which Sam Tumarkin has set up.

June 15—Are your teachers still giving exams? Hmmm? Is homework getting you down? Are you depressed or downcast—don't be; we have the only solution—DROP DEAD!!!!

June 18—After our glorious class sing, we're feeling rather generous, so . . . We, the graduating class of 1948, being of sound mind (?) and body, do bequeath the following:

To the teachers we leave the hope of always getting paid on time and always having co-operative darlings like us for students.

To the Freshmen we leave the thrill of a first crush; if you get desperate our phone numbers are in the directory.

To the Sophomores we leave our text books, worn ragged from use. Many a night we spent on those volumes—under our pillows of course!

Should the Juniors aspire to duplicate the grandeur and splendor of our magnificent class, we offer the following recipe: Mix 393 "nuts" into a batter of classes, blend with sports events and top off with plenty of Lindblom spirit. Season this recipe well with lots of fun to keep it sweet and give it life and you're sure to come out "the cream of the crop."

For the Seniors we leave—'nuff said. Well, what more do you want? We leave.

June 21—This year is the hundredth anniversary of the gold rush!

June 23—Commencement . . . Saying good-by to Lindblom is going to be a little harder than any of us imagined. We've learned to love her and to live by her laws of fair play and honesty. School life has been fun, not only the thrilling games where the boys fought for her glory, or just the cokes at Helen's, but the pep rallies, assemblies, and yes, even classes. May we say to you students who remain: "Cherish and uphold the standards of L. T. H. S. In so doing you will find yourself a richer, happier person. So long, and we'll be watching you go Onward Lindblom, forward Lindblom!"
